FULBRIGHT-CREATIVE IRELAND MUSEUM FELLOWSHIP: HARRY RANSOM CENTER

A post-graduate student will be awarded a Fulbright-Creative Ireland Museum Fellowship for 2020-21 to complete short-term research at the Harry Ransom Center at The University of Texas at Austin. The Center's extensive collections provide unique insight into the creative process of writers and artists, deepening our understanding and appreciation of literature, photography, film, art, and the performing arts.

Proposed research projects should engage substantively with the Ransom Center's collections and must demonstrate a commitment to innovation and creativity, and include plans for both scholarly and community engagement.

AWARD APPLICATIONS OPEN: 28.08.2019

ANYTHING ELSE YOU SHOULD KNOW?

- Prospective fellows should review the Ransom Center's collections online at <https://www.hrc.utexas.edu/search-the-collections> to identify potential collections of interest, and review <http://www.hrc.utexas.edu/contact> to identify potential advisors and collaborators.
- N.B. After registering interest on www.fulbright.ie, prospective fellows should contact the Ransom Center at kate.hayes@austin.utexas.edu with an outline of their project and to request a letter of support. This contact will facilitate introductions to relevant staff members. Applicants must include a letter of support from the Ransom Center in their Fulbright application.
- Request for a letter of support from the Ransom Center must be made by 20 October 2019. After that date, the Center cannot guarantee a response before the application deadline.
- All successful applicants must comply with the two-year home rule, which means that awardees will not be eligible for U.S. residency or a visa until the two-year home rule in Ireland is complete.
